

Virtual Training Department

You would like the benefits of your own Training Department but you don't have the expertise or the budget?

Let us manage it for you. We can offer you a package tailored to your specific needs which may include some or all of the following:

- Managing your budget
- Analysing your training needs
- Co-ordinating a training plan
- Evaluating training
- Integrating the training plan with your existing appraisal process – or help you create a new one
- Designing and delivering learning and development solutions

In a nutshell, you get all the benefits of an in house training function at a fraction of the cost and with none of the headaches!
